

ILM YOUNG LEADERS EXTENDED AWARD

A course for young people, facilitated by young people.

Learn from other young people who have completed the Young Leaders Enhanced Award with us, supported by other facilitators who have been in leadership positions over a long period of time.

Taught over 30 hours over 4 months, including class learning through group work, discussions, posters, presentations and multi-media.

A portfolio of your work is submitted to receive the award. Some work will need to be completed in your own time.

Complete all three units

Developing Self-Leadership and Resilience for Young People

Aim: to understand the use of effective self-leadership to achieve identified goals, develop self-leadership and reflect on self-leadership.

You'll learn about:

- Setting personal SMART objectives
- Self-motivation and self-reward
- Thinking constructively
- Problem-solving
- Thinking creatively
- Reflecting on performance

Plus:

Developing Awareness of Equality and Diversity

You'll learn about:

- How equality and diversity affects your community
- How you can promote equality and value diversity
- The challenges that exist and how to overcome them
- How to recognise and address bias, stereotypes, prejudice and behaviours that lead to discrimination

AND

Plus:

Developing Leadership Skills for Young People

You'll learn about:

- Characteristics of an effective leader
- Leading a team—action-centred approaches to individual, team and task
- Influencing others
- Dealing with conflict

An internationally recognised award, aimed at those aged 14-24 who wish to develop life long skills and behaviour in self leadership and resilience, communication, team work and problem-solving.

